Community Experiences Correlated with Improved Employment Outcomes

What is the level of evidence?

This predictor of post-school success has been labeled by NTACT at a Promising level of evidence, based on one a priori correlational study. More information on NTACT’s process for identifying effective practices is available here: NTACT’s Effective Practices.

What is the predictor?

Community experiences are activities occurring outside of the school setting, supported with in-class instruction, where students apply academic, social, and/or general work behaviors and skills.

What are the essential characteristics?

1. Allocate sufficient resources to support meaningful community-based experiences.
2. Conduct ecological assessments to determine skills needed for various community environments.
3. Provide instruction on skills needed to safely access community environments as identified via ecological assessments.
4. Conduct transition assessments with students and families to determine appropriate community environments for current and future activities.
5. Use community-based instruction to teach, assess, and monitor the attainment of desired academic and/or functional skills.
6. Observe and document students’ attainment of desired behaviors and skills across diverse environments.
7. Instruct students in use of public transportation.
8. Provide supervision during community experiences to guide and direct students in the development of appropriate behaviors and skills needed for specific environments.
9. Involve parent and adult service providers to support student involvement in community experiences.
10. Cooperate with community partners (e.g., employers, recreation facilities) to develop community experience sites.
11. Provide supports for parents to arrange community experiences after school hours.
12. Train teachers and paraprofessionals in necessary safety, health policies, and liability coverage necessary for students to participate in community experiences.
