Using Rehabilitation Counselor and Unit Autonomy to Increase Opportunities for Competitive, Integrated Employment for Students and Youth with Disabilities

What is the level of evidence?

This practice was identified by Rehabilitation Research & Training Center for Evidence-Based Practice in Vocational Rehabilitation (RRTC -EBP VR), and has been labeled by NTACT as a Promising Practice. More information on NTACT’s process for identifying effective practices is available here: NTACT’s Effective Practices.

What is the practice?

Autonomy indicates that agency counselors have the flexibility to meet the service needs of an individual client and district offices may alter services to meet the needs of the surrounding communities. Agency leaders strive to provide district managers, supervisors, and counselors with the flexibility (within a specified framework) to adapt to the challenges of services provision in a given area or with a particular client.
